United States Backs Plan Of Disarmament

U. S. Reply To Soviet Suggestion Is Given To U. N.
By Sen. Austin

BUT ALL NATIONS

By GEORGE DURO
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—
Soviet Russia was given an amazingly fast opportunity today to back up her world disarmament play—as somewhat definitely topped by the United States.

Just 41 hours after Premier Stalin's right-hand man, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov made his proposal, the "committee of the whole" of the United Nations General Assembly was set for a meeting to discuss the Soviet resolution.

The Assembly's general committee, upon which 51 chief delegates of each of the 51 member governments, convenes today.

And there, Molotov, or one of his deputies, can express his views on the United States' hearty endorsement of world disarmament—provided all powers agree to "effective means of safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violation and evasion."

Keynote Of Austin's Address
This latter was the keynote of former Senator Warren R. Austin's address before the Assembly last night, as chief of the American delegation, to answer Molotov's slashing attack of Tuesday, and to express fundamentals of U. S. foreign policy.

Molotov had laid down the bare skeleton of a suggestion for arms reduction and atomic bomb control.

Austin put it in long pants with his announcement that the United

PA NEW OBSESSES

One old apple tree on Park avenue has been coaxed by the spring-like weather into putting out a few blossoms.

Many flowers are still blooming in various sections of the city, despite the lateness of the season, Pa
New noted in traveling about the city on Wednesday. Many of the flowers were in protected spots and missed the only real damaging frost earlier this month.

Tomorrow local hunters will take to the woods in hunt of their favorite small game, which includes rabbit, squirrel, quail, ruffed grouse, pheasant, turkey and partridge. The season closes on November 30 for the small game, with deer season opening on December 1 continuing until December 15.

Tonight is Halloween and with no formal celebration in the city, there will probably be larger numbers of masqueraded youngsters on the streets than usual on the last night of October. Police warnings have been given that harmless fun will not be tolerated.

Whether because of the parade
Wednesday evening or some other reason, fewer youngsters in Halloween costumes rang doorbells in one section of the North Hill than for several halloweens past. Maybe scanty handouts of candy had something to do with their lack of enthusiasm.

Another homemade bomb was tossed into the same rooming house explode.

MILD FUN WILL

Of course, no one knows what tonight will bring forth in the way of hobgoblin pranks and witches' tricks, but so far this Halloween season the goblins have been the good-natured sort who soap a few windows, maybe, and come begging for candy, but who haven't done a thing to merit a police call.

Kilroy Involved
Perhaps they're having too much fun thinking up original ideas for costumes this year, or thinking of new things to soap on windows, such as "Steaks, 10c" on a store window, and "Hurray for Kilroy"
on some other. "Which way did he go, George? Which way did he go?" is another current favorite.

As for most of the costumes, we'll

Senate Control May Be Decided In Four States

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Republican control of the U. S. Senate in the next Congress apparently depends today on the GOP today.
Two of the four seats now held by Democrats in West Virginia, Montana, Washington and Wyoming.

Five days before the balloting, the Republicans appear certain of gaining eight of ten seats they need to capture the next Senate. The present Senate lines up: 56 Democrats, 39 Republicans and 1 Independent.

Concede G. O. P. Gains
The Democrats virtually concede the Republicans a net gain of six seats. Top Democrats plainly indicate they expect the Republicans to win seats in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Missouri,
Iowa and Wisconsin. But they hope to defeat a Republican incumbent in California.

nesday night, the New Castle school board let a contract to the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company for 7380 steel seats to be erected at

The new steel seats are to replace the present West side wooden bleachers which have about outlived their usefulness. The bank of new seats will be 360 feet long and 30 rows deep and are said to be the most modern outdoor seats available.

Capt. Van Zandt Sees Indication Of GOP Victory

Republicans Gather At Rally
In Arena Wednesday
Night—G. I. Caravan
Here

"The long hairs and the Communists will be driven out of official Washington when the Republicans regain control of Congress
next January," Captain James E.
Van Zandt told a Republican rally
Wednesday night in the Arena on Grove street. Captain Van Zandt was the principal speaker at a rally sponsored by the Republican Westerners' league of Lawrence county.

Communists Are Known
"There are 237 known Communists in the State department at the present time," said Captain Van Zandt. "It seems no matter whether or not he wants to Secretary of State James P. Byrnes cannot get them out, but there is a way and this is it. Every appropriation bill originates in the House of Representatives. The next House will be Republican and money for the conduct of government departments can be cut off until they get rid of the Communists."

"There is a lot of talk about another war," said Captain Van Zandt. "Ordinarily Russia would not want war with the United States, but keep on filling Washington key posts with Communists and you can well believe that Joe Stalin would feel the time was ripe. He has already said Communism and Capitalism cannot survive together in one world."

"The polls and forecasts indicate a Republican victory this year, but don't be lulled into inactivity. There is work to do, get the voters out to the polls, let's be sure we have our strength out."

the victims being able to leave the hospital after treatment. The operators were: Fred M. Aubel, of Andrews Addition, Greenville; and Piper B. Preston, of 115 Sheridan

According to the investigation conducted by state police, following the collision, a truck owned by Mooney Brothers was being operated north when the lights went out. The operator drove the truck off the side of highway and set a flare.

Administration Has No Idea Of Lewis' Demands

Meeting Tomorrow To Bring Miners' New Demands
Into Open First Time

WARNING GIVEN OF PRICE SPIRAL

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—
Stabilization officials warned today that any reopening of the existing coal wage agreement involves the threat of a new industrial price spiral and indefinite federal control of the nation's bituminous fields.

These experts pointed out that the granting of sizeable wage boosts to John L. Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners will mean higher coal prices that ultimately will be transmitted to steel and other basic commodities.

Prolong U. S. Operation
In addition, as industry spokesmen already have indicated, the negotiation of a new contract with Lewis probably will prolong indefinitely the period of government operation of the mines.

Soft coal operators have not yet accepted the agreement signed by the government and the United Mine Workers last May which provided for an 18-cent hourly pay increase plus a health and welfare fund financed by a levy of five cents a ton on all coal produced.

Against the hazards of reopening is balanced the threat of a winter coal strike if the government does not yield to Lewis.

An extended mine shutdown would curb the rising stream of production necessary to avoid inflationary pitfalls under the administration's accelerated price decontrol program.

No Clue on Demands
So far, however, the administration has no clue to Lewis' forthcoming demands except a widespread belief that he will seek a reduction in the present 54-hour work week of the miners.

Coal Mines Administration officials cling to the slim hope that Lewis' requests will be moderate and that a solution may be reached without negotiating an entire new agreement.

Navy Capt. N. H. Collisson, boss of the Coal Mines Administration, will meet with UMW representatives at

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—
President Truman leaves for Inde-silent pre-election trip which the White House insists will be devoid of any speeches or public appearances.

Mr. Truman, traveling by special train, is going to his Missouri home

Present plans indicate that this action will be his only election contribution to the Democratic party of which he is the titular head.

As election day approaches, it becomes increasingly apparent that the chief executive is intent on di-either on his own initiative or on advice from his party's strategists.

Remove Ceilings On Shoe Prices

See Apparent Trend Toward Removal Of Controls In

REPORT PRODUCTION
PICTURE BRIGHTER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—
The future of clothing price controls appeared uncertain today in the face of a surprise administration order removing ceilings from shoe prices.

The shoe decontrol action, effective at 12:01 a. m. today, marked the first important decontrol step affecting the national apparel budget.

See Further Moves
Some quarters saw indications of further moves in the same direction in these developments.

An apparent trend toward removal of Civilian Production Administration production and allocation controls on textiles and clothing.

2. Increasing pressure for removal of price controls on cotton textiles to prevent further downward pressure on the slumping cotton market.

ture throughout the clothing industry.

Three Are Killed; 16 Injured When Truck Hits Wall

SAYRE, Pa., Oct. 31.—(INS)—
Three persons were dead and 16 others in the Robert Packer hospital at Sayre today with injuries suffered when the truck in which they were riding crashed into an underpass wall near Troy, Pa. All were Negroes.

State Police Chd. R. J. Lettner reported at Towanda that the driver and two front-seat occupants died almost instantly in the crash.

The truck, apparently traveling at a high rate of speed, rounded a curve and smashed into the underpass, Lettner said.

The victims, itinerant crop pickers, were en route from Savannah, N. Y., to their home at Sayre, Pa., when the accident

Explosions Wreck British Embassy Entrance, In Rome

Two Suitcases Filled With Mines Explode And Demolish Front Of Building

ONE MAN KILLED;
TWO OTHERS HURT

(BULLETIN)

ROME, Oct. 31.—(INS)— Explosion of two suitcases filled with mines in the entrance to the British embassy demolished the front of the building today, killed one man and injured two others.

The entire facade of the building from the ground floor to the first floor was ripped open by the early morning blasts which brought an expression of regret from the Italian government and an immediate investigation by high-ranking officials.

The embassy offices were not occupied at the time of the blasts.
British Ambassador Sir Noel
Charles is away on leave and members of his staff were asleep in the residency building nearby. The residency quarters were damaged.

Explosives Discovered
The suitcases loaded with explosives were discovered by two Italian policemen assigned to routine patrol of the embassy area.
They had large red danger flags painted on them and this warning.

"Attention: Mines," upon discovering the suitcases, ran to alert his superiors but the detonation stopped him in his tracks.

Damage was estimated at hundreds of millions of lire. Staff members were advised not to enter the building because of its shakiness after the explosions.

Says Italians Not Responsible
Following an initial investigation, Carmelo Buttino, chief of the political division of the Roman police department, said he was convinced Italians were not responsible for the explosions.

One of the men injured reported to be a passing motorist, was in a serious condition in a Roman hospital. He was identified as Nicolino Palitta. The other injured victim, a reporter in a building opposite the embassy, was hit by a flying piece of stone or steel.

The blasts occurred around 2:45

Outer North Hill Water To Be Shut Off After Midnight

Residents of the North Hill north of Clearmont boulevard will be without water for a short time after midnight tonight, J. Lepore Matthews, superintendent of the New Castle Water Company said today.

The water will be shut off between 12 midnight and 12:30 and will be off for perhaps an hour and a half or two hours. The company will clean the line in order to find an obstruction which has mitigated against the proper pressure of water. Residents who will be up at that time and will need water are advised to draw water before midnight.

An International News Service survey brought up to date indicates Republican victories in Massachusetts, New York, Missouri, West Virginia and Montana. If correct, this would give the Democrats claim in Ohio, Missouri, Idaho and Wisconsin. It also shows the Republicans should retain their present seats in California, Kentucky and Connecticut. Government officials in close contact with the shoe trade predicted retail price increases of 20 to 30 percent. A spokesman for the shoe manufacturers said in Chicago, however, that prices will not rise "above the level of other commodities."

The trend toward removal of allocation and production controls in the clothing field was positively demonstrated Wednesday when CPA removed the important cotton "loom freeze" order. The freeze controlled the output of 75 per cent of the nation's 500,000 cotton looms.

"It's time for a change."

Republican County Chairman Roger W. Rowland was introduced and spoke briefly in welcoming the approximately 500 at the rally. He urged every one present to see that his family and neighbors vote on November 5.

Frank W. Hilton, chairman of the Pennsylvania Young Republicans, was introduced and spoke on the work of the young people in the party and their responsibilities in seeing that the vote was gotten out.

James C. Brice and William H. McCulloch, candidates for the General Assembly, were introduced. Congressman Louis E. Graham was not present.

Doughnuts and coffee were served by a corps of young men and women under the direction of former Sheriff Clyde D. Badger.

Prior to the rally, a GI caravan had seen all the contestants and in the confusion the winners got away without their award. But the prize is waiting for them at Myers Shoe Store, 129 East Long avenue. It is to be given to Fay and Diana Rossi who were dressed as Lilliputian bride and groom. His absence is all the more remarkable this year because his long-time friend, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D Tex.), is scheduled as the principal speaker of the evening, and is traveling to the meeting with the presidential party.

The president's inactivity in the campaign in its closing days even extends to a White House statement that he will not make platform appearances from his train as it travels to Independence. The White House has refused to make public a stop-by-stop itinerary of the trip.

As the president prepared to leave Washington, it became known that earlier tentative plans calling for one major presidential speech have been cancelled.

ceivable costume. Frankenstein's monster, clowns, Dutch twins. Every race and creed were represented, some from south of the border, others from North America, Europe and Asia. There were scores and scores of costumes and still they came, devils, ghost and more devils. Then there were those that were indescribable. There were farmers, city slickers and tramps, even Kilroy, brides and grooms, characters from life and fiction. Replicas of persons on radio, stage and screen, even the comic book characters came in for their share. One little "juni" was so small the judges could scarcely see him. A whole galaxy of other persons paraded.

Other Bands

Then there were bands. Beside the New Castle high band there were the Croton school band with musicians and twirlers so small they were dwarfed by the instruments they played, and the Benjamin Franklin high band, even a professional band.

Floats in the parade were well arranged, but the most outstanding was that of Mrs. Gloria Cioffi Pionati which represented Cleopatra and her caravan. To this float went the grand prize of $35. The second prize was given to Harold Spear for a float showing a hunter in a corn field.

In the children's division the first prize was held up till the judges had seen all the contestants and in the confusion the winners got away without their award. But the prize is waiting for them at Myers Shoe Store, 129 East Long avenue. It is to be given to Fay and Diana Rossi who were dressed as Lilliputian bride and groom. A large number of other prizes were given.

Crowd Hampers

Near the end of the parade there was a drawing on the nylon hosiery awards. Because of the jam of humanity around the viewing stand, it was impossible for the winners to approach the stand for their awards. Following is the list of prize winning numbers and the holders of these numbers can receive the nylons by presenting the ticket to Harold Lebo, Long avenue. 077380, 075011, 076299, 076268, 076522, 06221, 075864, 076061, 074716, 074616, 074261, 074298, 076030, 076882, 076062, 06062, 074133, 077630, 26053, 074457, 077795, 075628, 075626 and 076217.

From start to finish the parade was a complete success. Everyone, young and old seemed to enjoy themselves. Some were luckier than others, but that is usually the case in competition. Hundreds of people participated in the parade itself and the South Side Board of Trade wishes to thank those people for making the parade a success. As well as the city police department, the fire chief, all the judges and their assistants and the members of the James Phillips Post of the American Legion and its commander, for their part in the event.

States welcomes such, provided a full system of international inspection is provided to make certain no nation is holding out.

The American spokesman drew applause when he observed:

Will Not Repeat Mistake

"After the last war we made the mistake of disarming unilaterally. We shall not repeat that mistake."

Likewise well received was his statement that:

"The initiative of the Soviet Union in this matter is appropriate because of its military armies, just as the initiative of the United States was appropriate in proposing measures to prevent the manufacture of the atomic bomb."

Austin observed that "since the end of the war in Europe and in the Pacific, the United States has progressively and resolutely reduced its military establishment."

Then, he said rather pointedly, and using Molotov's own language:

Need More Than Talk

"We cannot reduce armaments merely by talking about the reduction of armaments and possible disarmament, or the heavy burden caused by excessive expenditures of armaments. We cannot achieve it without positive acts which will establish the mutual trust and confidence to which Mr. Molotov also referred."

Sen. Austin further reminded the Soviet foreign minister that the best immediate method of greasing the way to reduced armaments would be creation of a definite pattern for an international police force able to enforce all decisions of the UN Security Council. This would let each nation know what it would have to contribute in the way of land, air and sea forces, and enable a resultant reinforcement in national defense.

YOUTH READY FOR HALLOWEEN

have to wait until this evening to see what comes around, and plenty of mesquerades are planning to go around, rain or no rain. An umbrella and a pair of galoshes wouldn't detract too much from a wild outfit anyway.

Beggars Will Come

And don't forget, a little bit of Halloween candy, a few nuts, or a lollipop help to make this night the special event it should be for these kids, even if candy is a little bit difficult to get this year.

Apples, pennies? Well, some of the kids like 'em, but the lollipops and candy still have first place. In fact, the amount of damage, in the way of corn, leaves, and soap, which is done to front porches is very often determined by the quality of the contribution received at the door. The young goblins have their own way of doing things, haven't they?

Oh, well, it's Halloween, and what can you expect?

ADMINISTRATION HAS NO IDEA OF LEWIS' DEMANDS

Interior Secretary J. A. Krug who is on a western inspection trip. Collision, said:

Will Listen

"We will listen to anything Lewis has to say. We have an agreement with him. If the miners have any grievances or feel that injustices exist in the current contract, we will be glad to listen to them. Further than that we can not go in advance of the negotiations."

Collision thus indicated that the Interior department is standing firm on its position that the present Krug-Lewis agreement cannot be reopened legally. Other top government officials take the opposite view, however, and these officials fear that in the last analysis the administration will have to yield to the UMW demand in order to avert a disastrous coal strike.

New York Odds Favor Republicans

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The election campaign in New York is like a slightly stale routine. The actors, with one exception, are all veteran performers and they are offering nothing new in this current political season.

There is, of course, another reason why the show should hold something less than the rapt interest of the populace. The odds appear to be too heavy in favor of the Republicans. Every straw in the listless wind shows that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will be re-elected by such a majority that he will sweep his running mate, Irving M. Laves, a newcomer in national politics, into the corner in national politics, into the U. S. Senate on the tide of victory.

The only fact that qualifies this is the heavy registration in New York City and in certain upstate industrial areas. Leaders of the three parties—Democratic, American Labor and Liberal—backing the Mead-Lehman ticket insist this means a small majority for their candidates when the votes are counted next Tuesday night.

Large Protest Vote

But more impartial observers put a different interpretation on it. They believe it indicates a large protest vote which will be registered, for a wide variety of reasons, against the "fix" at Washington. The final registration in New York City, 2,175,000, is nearly 600,000 higher than the figure for 1942.

Here in New York state the manifold handicaps piled on a party long in power are particularly obvious. The Democratic candidates are weighed down with the burdens of the past 14 years.

That may explain why both Republicans and Democrats spend so much time talking about the past. The Republicans orate on the failures and mistakes of the New Deal. The Democrats tend to stress past glories associated with the symbol of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. From the general tone of the campaign it might be 1944 or 1942 or even earlier.

Former Governor Herbert H. Lehman has never been a forceful campaigner. In the governorship and later as director-general of UNRRA he showed that he could work hard and earnestly for decent objectives. But he has never exhibited the bold imagination and the decisiveness that the problems of our time demand. And if he is elected, he will be 69 years old shortly after he takes his seat in the Senate.

Loyal New Dealer

Senator James M. Mead in his service in Washington showed himself a loyal New Dealer. He gave time and energy faithfully to the Senate Defense Investigating committee. But he could by no stretch of the imagination be described as a strong candidate.

Because of the wide range of party support that must be appealed to both Mead and Lehman are inhibited. Their opinions tend to be reduced to the least-offensive common denominators.

On the Republican side nothing could be more familiar than the Dewey presence. Like any other highly machined and highly finished product, his consistency is one of his most remarkable characteristics.

It is a consistency not merely of political approach but of physical appearance, of tone of voice and precision of inflection. You can safely bet that there are exactly as many hairs in the Dewey mousehole today as there were in 1944 or 1940.

Having been governor during a period of high prosperity, when local problems were obscured, Dewey may count this consistency as an advantage, rather than a disadvantage. While the state seems to have done little, and that with small success, to facilitate veterans' housing, the governor is able to exploit the outcry against Washington to avert blame that otherwise might fall on him.

Adroit Politician

Within the compass of New York State, he has proved himself an adroit politician. The newcomer, Laves, is an able campaigner who speaks more forthrightly on foreign, police and labor than does his opponent.

The steam generated in the fight over Representative Vito Marcantonio is blowing off with a louder noise than anything heard in the main contest. The extreme left spearheaded by the Communists is determined to re-elect Marcantonio who has been a never-failing voice for the left in Congress.

Conspicuously absent in this race is Fiorella La Guardia with his economical energy and the glitter and flash of his hyperbolic personality. That La Guardia wrought miracles in pulling this city up by its bootstraps is becoming more and more apparent as the sag under Mayor William O'Dwyer becomes more obvious.

No glittering personality, no hyperbolic energy are present in the current campaign. Those who talk about a return to normalcy may get more of it than they want before the pendulum of reaction has ceased to swing to the right.

Hints On Etiquette

The dinner jacket is worn for restaurant and theater wear, and on all informal evening occasions requiring more than street clothes but less formal than those that call for a full dress suit. A black or white waistcoat, black silk bow tie and plain, stiff-bosomed shirt are worn with the tuxedo.

Words Of Wisdom

The learning and knowledge that we have is, at the most, but little compared with that of which we are ignorant.—Plato.

"Bump Of Knowledge"

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed by International News Service)

Flushing Meadows—First Annual Diphtheria Derby—This is National Apple week and Molotov handed the UN the first unpolished pippin.

Molotov spoke for an hour in Russian while the delegates trembled in English and French.

Then they ran the speech through the translation wringer and when the mimeograph stopped shaking in three languages it turned out to be a mild speech. . . . You could hardly feel the barb.

Molotov is for cooperation until it hurts. . . . He even knows who it will hurt.

But you got to give him one thing. . . . He minced no words. He mashed them.

Anyhow honesty in terminology has set in here. Delegate Bell of Cuba says the term "peace-loving states" in the UN charter "is not only ambiguous but likewise ridiculous."

That's belting 'em. . . . If only "peace-loving states" were here this convention could be held in a sensory booth with extra chairs for visitors.

There goes the gavel. . . . Where are the bandages?

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There ain't no opportunities in this country for me unless you join the Communist party.

That's what I heard one evening at a couple of weeks ago while I was waiting for a bus at Columbus Circle in New York. About a hundred people were listening to the orator. Then my bus came.

I got on and opened my newspaper.

I read an article about a former switchboard operator in a New York hotel who had died that day.

Thirty years ago she had married a fellow employee who had come over from Ireland, worked as a grocery clerk, had carried coal, passed plaster, held hand and then come to the hotel.

After the marriage he became a policeman, studied law in his spare hours, then was a lawyer, teacher and judge, joined the army when the war broke out in 1941, was promoted to Brigadier General, and today is Mayor of the largest city in the world.

The lady's name was originally Catherine Lenthian and her husband's name is William O'Dwyer, Mayor of the City of New York, an honor he obtained less than a year ago.

No opportunities in this country any longer?

There are if you quit complaining and berating and whining and waiting for more pay for less work and shorter hours.

There are if you will do what this Irish immigrant did—dream of success and work to make your dreams come true.

There are as long as today's wife

does what that Irish girl, daughter of an immigrant, did—be a helpmeet and a pot and the sort of man she promised to be when she went to the altar with him.

There are if you do what hundreds of boys fresh from the war are doing right now in hundreds of offices and shops and laboratories, leaving their way to greatness and success.

I don't mean to imply for a moment that capitalism is a heavenly choir of angels and that labor is a delegation sent directly from hell to plague mankind.

But I do believe that Opportunity is just as great today as it ever was if we will only go after it instead of waiting for it to come to us during ever longer weekends while we are lying on a downy couch of laziness and selfishness.

After all, you must admit that a modern capitalist requires, if not a greater measure of faith, hope and charity, at least quite a bit of common sense and intelligence.

No "capitalist" who knows what's good for him would be foolish enough to ignore completely the plain-as-your-nose-signs of the times which say for every one to understand.

You must pay well to get your work done well.

And the same signs say:

You must work hard enough and produce enough to enable your employer to pay you well.

And, by the way, many a capitalist started as a worker in the plant he heads today.

But I still have to hear from the first capitalist who found his opportunity on a soapbox.

From Me To You

The merchants of the south side. . . . again they came through with a high light. What would Halloween be without a parade. . . . glory be. And the citizens of the town turned out in full force. Fun, laughter and a jolly good time all around was had by the people who attended. . . . either as spectators or as participants. A great big salute to the merchants of the south side. . . . for their good fellowship.

Attention to veterans who have already received their money from the Federal Government. . . . payment for terminal leave. . . . a small slip is enclosed in the envelope that must be returned. This slip is necessary to complete the files on your payment. . . . and there is some talk in the pay office that if these slips don't start to come in. . . . payments for the future will be held up. . . . so veterans. . . . don't hold your fellow veteran back. . . . those who have been paid be sure to return the slip.

Supposing next Tuesday is a day like today. . . . will you get out and vote? Oh please do. . . . regardless of the weather. . . . make sure that you use your privilege to vote. Every one that is registered must again realize that it is a MUST to vote.

Did you notice today. . . . you still have time. . . . how few leaves are now on the trees. . . . the swift wind of yesterday really stripped the leaves down. . . . it is getting to look more and more like winter. . . . fall is passing us by. . . . and soon it will be turkey time.

That sounds odd doesn't it. . . . Turkey time. . . . why we have been eating turkey almost all the year round. Probably this year it will be the standing rib roasts that will adorn the center of the family Thanksgiving Dinner Table.

And that line of thought brings up pumpkin pie. . . . topped with nice fluffy whipped cream. . . . oh man, you make my mouth water. Let's stop this dribble and go out and fold the ice box.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOW TO PUNISH YOUNGER CHILDREN

"Dear Dr. Myers: I am very much interested in your column, since we have a little boy 13 months old and we want, above all things, to have a well-disciplined child. He is our first and only child and knows he is loved very much by both his parents.

He has never felt the pain of a spanking up to this time but has heard the word "no" several times. He cannot yet walk alone and gets everywhere. I never leave him out of the play-pen unless I can watch him every single minute.

"Our boy knows what 'no' means because he stops and looks at me when I say it, but he will go right back to the same object time and time again. I never put things away out of his reach.

"What would be the proper procedure in making him leave things alone? Is it necessary to paddle him on his bare bottom or would it be just as well to spank him hard with his overalls on? It would seem a lot of trouble to take his clothes off every time I spanked. Should he be spanked for several things in one day?"

Effective Learning

This is what I advised: You are very wise in never leaving that child out of his play-pen except when you can supervise him "every single minute."

He really has not learned the meaning of "no." All it means now is that you don't wish him to touch or handle certain objects. He will have the true meaning of the word only when it is so surely associated with physical pain that he will not choose to repeat an act with which he has been "no" just once. Too bad he has heard the word at all. All you were ready to connect it with pain, since effective learning will, on that account, be more costly.

While it is not well to put necessary articles away, it will simplify his learning "no" if you will put away a few unnecessary smaller articles for a few days and bring them back later.

No Exception To Rule

Center on just one forbidden thing a day. Make sure he always gets instant pain when he touches it. Be sure there is no exception to this rule. Never say "no" to it without giving pain, and say it in a moderate tone. Never shout it.

Keep him away from other things for the time. After a few days, and another item to the forbidden group. Be sure to have many other things he may enjoy freely. It is important that he gets much affection.

Through his clothes you may have to spank him unduly hard to give effective pain. Thereby you don't bruise or hurt his body. No doubt his thighs or calves are bare now, so spank him there with your bare hand, but now in a way that will sting and not bruise. Or while holding his hand in one of yours, you could well slap the top of his hand.

If you are entirely consistent and will be amazed at how soon that he will avoid the usual articles he should avoid and how soon a quiet "no" will suffice regarding new things he should avoid. Best of all, if you do this intelligently, you will have a well-controlled child who will be happy and who won't need much punishment as he grows into manhood.

What People Say

By International News Service

NEW YORK — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. "It should not be forgotten that atomic bombs used by one side may be opposed by atomic bombs and something else obvious on the other side and then obvious collapse of all present-day calculations of certain untested but short-lived people will become all too apparent."

PHILADELPHIA — David E. L. Lenthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, urged international control of atomic energy. "An agreement by each nation to outlaw the bomb might even be worse than nothing at all, for it would create suspicion and lead to what the other fellow was doing behind closed factory doors and in secret laboratories. And fear and suspicion breed wars."

NEW YORK — Bernard M. B. B. such, United States delegate to the United Nations atomic energy commission. "There will be no surprise if the bomb is used and until we know that all other countries are prevented from doing the thing we would be giving a up-bond trading. Are we to be the only ones to disarm? That way is suicide."

MOTORISTS' LAST FRONTIER

Hard-driving motorists may find that dream of driving to Alaska coming true within the next year or two. Already buses make three trips a week over the war-built Alaskan highway, and the rate at which tourist accommodations are going up makes it seem reasonable to suppose that by 1948—reasonable 1947—Tom, Dick and Harry can make the trip.

Gasoline stations now are from 150 to 200 miles apart, but new ones are planned to reduce the intervals to 100 miles. Meals and sleeping accommodations can be found now at intermediate points, and others are popping up.

The Canadian Army is maintaining the road, 1,600 miles long, which was built by the United States Government during the war. It plans to keep the artery open throughout the winter.

Here is one of the last frontiers for the motorist—a plane where traffic isn't congested, and where with many of the comforts of home he can experience the thrill of pioneering. It sounds like a nice place to travel—if you don't mind being pretty much on your own in event of car trouble.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Washington Reports

Lewis Fears Early Return Of Mines To Their Owners
General Turned Into Envoy Unnoticed, Quiet Figure
Senate War Investigation Committee To Be Active

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Possible repeal of the Smith-Connally act is believed to be behind John L. Lewis' efforts to obtain a new wage boost immediately from the government. These have been reports in Washington that in January the new Congress will wipe out the war-time statute which provides for government seizure of properties in labor disputes.

Hence the government may have to restore the soft coal mines—seized last May because of a strike—to their owners before peaceful relations are re-established between the operators and the UMW.

Apparently sensing such a possibility, Lewis called for a negotiating conference with the government Nov. 1 to consider changes in wage and hours. Undoubtedly he wants to obtain a new contract before the government steps out of the coal business.

The bituminous operators have not even agreed to accept the present government-UMW contract.

Most unnoticed key figure in Washington in recent days was Walter Bedell Smith, once the country's general, but now, wrapped in multi-colored pen-and-strap suit—the United States ambassador to probably the world's most important post, Moscow.

Smith came to town shortly after the 21-power Paris peace conference. He took an obscure office on an untraveled corridor of the state department. He conferred only with President Truman and Secretary of State James B. Byrnes. He was frequently in touch with the Russian desk which kept him current on day-to-day developments at his post in Moscow.

Thus Smith kept himself under wraps and would not discuss United States-Russia relations.

However, it may be a reassuring note in a confusing situation to know that the ambassador, like any householder, was working on problems of getting his embassy in order. Prices have risen in Moscow as well as Kalamazoo, New York and Evanston.

Government control officials concede that the price control program is scuttled and that from here on out it is only a matter of liquidating what remains of OPA.

This liquidation process may stretch over a period of many months, possibly until the agency expires by law on June 30 next. But the stabilization line is gone. It is like Humpty-Dumpty—impossible to restore.

OPA officials want to keep controls on rents and building materials more than anything else because of the housing shortage and veterans' low cost housing programs.

Look for the senate war investigating committee, rather than the House.

Whether Mr. Nelson is correct in assuming that a large incentive in the ambition for complete military domination from the "mistakes" of the Army may be a matter of debate. Certain it is that military interference was responsible for many of the tragic delays in production, and military mismanagement for the waste of vast sums of money—including such projects as Canal Oil, the Alcan Highway and the International Highway in Central America.

Mr. Nelson's charges, which he undertakes to substantiate in detail in his book, come as a reminder of the inherent dangers of the proposed consolidation of the Army and Navy Departments. Such a consolidation, it already has been indicated, implies supremacy of the Army, with Army control over virtually all production and resources in time of war. It is almost axiomatic that the military mind and the industrial mind seldom run parallel. Neither does the military mind, generally speaking, have adequate conception of the problems of labor and agriculture.

Submergence of the Navy and Marine forces aside, the consolidation program would be a long step toward the goal toward which, according to the then war production chief, the Army aspired in the critical years of the war. Military control over the whole economy can only be achieved by putting the country under martial law. We do not think the American people are ready for that, save as a last desperate measure in case of actual invasion.

State Police Say:

No one wants to have an accident but too many drivers do not want sufficiently NOT to have one. They take dangerous chances in traffic by disregarding warning signs, improper passing, excessive speed and operating defective automobiles. You have no way of knowing whether you will be the next victim of the highway assassin. Know the rules of the road and play the game fairly.

Bible Thought

The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him; and He will show them His Covenant.—Psalm 25:14.

Tapping Earth's Heat

Householders had better not cancel orders for coal or fuel oil prematurely, but they should be interested in learning that five houses in Chattanooga, Tenn., will be heated this coming winter by apparatus tapping the thermal energy of the earth.

The experimenters, moreover, are all officials of the Chattanooga electric power board, which seems to indicate that the idea is not exactly a pipe dream.

The installations are expected to be ready by the time cold weather arrives in Chattanooga. Called reverse-cycle heat pumps, they will draw water from wells 200 feet deep, where a constant temperature level of 58 degrees Fahrenheit prevails. This water will go to a refrigerating unit in the house and the heat it loses will be taken up by the refrigerant gas. The gas will be compressed to release more heat and coils will then transmit this warmth to air circulating throughout the house.

It has not been revealed what such a unit costs or what it might cost if mass-produced. It is asserted that it will take about a fourth as much current to operate it as would be needed in a house served by ordinary electric resistance-type heaters. That implies that the system will make it relatively economical to keep warm with electricity.

The board, of course, wants to sell more power. But it also wants to even out its load, which is high in winter and low in summer. If this device fills the board's hopes, it will cool houses in hot weather as well as warm them in cold, thus smoothing out the demand. If it works it may presage a revolution in heating.

Enduring Imprint

Ernest Thompson Seton was a man with a mission. He pursued it single-mindedly and with energetic zeal throughout a long-crowded and occasionally stormy lifetime. He worked with such success that, long before he died, at the age of 86, he could feel that he had left his imprint on his time and that it would be enduring.

He once said that his purpose as naturalist, author, artist and lecturer was to depict the outdoor world "so people would come to know and to enjoy animals without killing them off." But if that was the main purpose that drove him to write more than 40 books and deliver more than 3,000 lectures, it became part of something far wider in scope. For he believed and preached that every man should have an understanding of nature to live a full and well-rounded life.

Nor was he content merely to advocate this doctrine with written and spoken word and with his artist's skill. He did something about it. As far back as 1902, six years before a Britisher started the Boy Scouts in England, he organized the Woodcraft Indians. He became one of the men who imported scouting to this country in 1910, wrote the first manual, and served for five years as chief scout. Just as naturally he broke with his colleagues when he decided they were bent on traveling away from the path he had blazed.

But what he helped to put into the movement's program is still there. And, because of him, a whole generation of Americans has come to manhood with a better appreciation of the nation's natural heritage and a greater conviction that it must not be lost.

Paging Jules Verne

Progressive education on a global scale seems to be in store for the student of tomorrow. Some idea of what can be done along these lines is afforded by Edgar Lee Layton, Washington theater man, who now commutes between the capital and New York City by air to take a university course in theater management.

A logical development of the idea would make it possible for the next generation of college students to attend a dozen schools throughout the world daily and get home every night in time for supper.

The typical My Day for the student of tomorrow may run something like this:

Breakfast on the rocket to New York; lesson in journalism at Columbia; lecture on Shakespeare at Oxford; rowing practice at Cambridge; French lesson at the Sorbonne; dining practice at Heidelberg; Swedish callisthenics at Stockholm; lesson in Italian primitives at Parma; lunch in Cairo; oratory lesson at Athens; lesson in rug-wearing at Constantinople; rope trick lesson at Calcutta; judo class at Tokyo; engineering course at Stanford; football practice at Notre Dame; and home for supper.

And to this might be added a weekly jaunt to the moon for geological research.

There might be some difficulty in deciding which institution on the global route should be considered the student's Alma Mater, but, to be on the conservative side, it would be wise not to cross that bridge until it is possible to see the whites of their eyes.

A fellow traveler is a person who sneezes when Stalin takes snuff.

Perhaps hard work never kills, as a physician contends, but the thought of it scares some people nearly to death.

Wonder if most of the folks who sold scrap iron to Japan in the thirties are now in favor of giving Russia the atom bomb?

If an egg shortage is looming, as predicted, there will be plenty of time to correct the deficiency before the demand for the hen fruit as 1948 campaign ammunition sets in.

House shortage is to continue for two years, the government has announced. By that time GI Joe may have become so well acquainted with his wife's people he will not want to move.

County Treasurer

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Friday morning when the sun comes up the forests of Pennsylvania will look like the banks of the Rhine river of a couple of years ago, save for uniforms. The hunting season will open and from the way hunting licenses have been going out of the county treasurer's office in this county and probably in the other counties a lot of rabbits, squirrels and pheasants are living on borrowed time.

County Treasurer Frank W. Hill's force has been busy turning out hunting licenses. Most of them are for folks who like the sport out a lot of them are for folks who want meat and at the price being asked today a couple of rabbits would seem like a rare delicacy.

Thursday night the office of the county treasurer will be open until nine o'clock to accommodate those who cannot get to the office in the ordinary business hours.

LET'S FIND OUT

Some of the proponents of the idea of putting Daylight Saving Time upon the November 5 ballot were heard from today and the general idea is that the referendum is a good thing.

"Sure it won't have any legal effect," said one. "But it's been my observation that most public officials have their ears to the ground listening for what the people say. Public officials get elected by votes and the voters' ideas are the thing officials want to know."

"Regardless of the fact that the vote will have no legal effect, we believe it's a good idea to let the people tell the officials what they think. If people will get to the polls on Tuesday and register their opinion on Daylight Saving Time, the officials will have a better idea of what to do next summer."

ABOUT INFLUENZA

DANGER IN STATE

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Deputy Health Secretary J. Moore Campbell said today he did not have "the least idea" whether influenza would be widespread in Pennsylvania this winter.

Campbell said, however, no serious trouble was anticipated and added the department was prepared to swing into action with penicillin and sulfa drugs at the first danger signal. The disease is not reportable.

He said the last serious influenza epidemic occurred in Pennsylvania in 1918. At that time, he explained, many of the cases which resulted in death were complicated by pneumonia.

Results In Poll Show Few People Up On Politics

Brownsville Paper Finds Rice And Duff Just Two Names In Quizzing 100 Persons

BROWNVILLE, Pa., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Who's John S. Rice? James H. Duff? Brick Bradford?

It is doubtful whether the majority of Pennsylvanians who will troop to the polls in next Tuesday's election can answer these questions.

At least that's what a poll taken by the Brownsville Telegraph among 100 "average" Brownsville residents—business and professional men, clerks and housewives—indicated today.

The result of the poll, the Telegraph editors reported was astounding.

For the purpose of the poll a comic strip was chosen that did not appear on the paper's regular comic page and might be easily overlooked by some readers. Despite this, 62 persons of the 100 questioned knew that Brick Bradford is a comic strip character.

But—Only 25 Knew Rice

Only 25 of the 100 persons polled knew that John S. Rice was the Democratic candidate for governor, 66 said they had never heard of him and nine were doubtful of his identity.

On the other hand, 36 persons knew that James H. Duff was the GOP gubernatorial candidate, 44 said they did not know him and 20 were doubtful.

The editors also included the names of the Democratic and Republican candidates for the General Assembly from the second Fayette county district, in which Brownsville is located.

Only 14 persons knew Harry Cochran, the Democratic General Assembly candidate, 77 were unaware that he was a candidate and nine were doubtful.

However, 69 persons knew that Charles E. Fogle was the Republican candidate for the General Assembly, 16 had never heard of him and 15 were doubtful of his category.

The poll was not without its amusing side.

For example, a Democratic officeholder in Brownsville had never heard of Rice but he did know that Duff was the Republican standard-bearer.

And a housewife closed the interview with:

"If you ever call me out of the bathtub again to ask who Brick Bradford is, so help me, I'll cancel my subscription to the paper."

SOCIAL LEAD HADASSAH HEARS DR. IWAN GRUEN

An unusually large meeting of the New Castle Chapter of Hadassah was held at Temple Israel, Tuesday evening, at which time they heard Dr. Iwan Gruen speak on the "Religious Significance of Hadassah Work in This Country and in Palestine."

Preceding Dr. Gruen, a Suroch festival skit, "The Lodestar," was presented in an excellent fashion under the direction of Mrs. Leonard Groden, who took the part of the grandmother. Mrs. Sam Levin was the mother, and daughters were Ruth Edenstein and Hadassah Krash.

Mrs. Hyman Frank, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Charles Maierman, who spoke on American affairs, mentioning specifically the coming election and other current vital matters.

Mrs. Gus Slovinsky, president, presided during the meeting and called for reports from chairmen who outlined projects. Mrs. Pierson Caplan is the delegate to the Hadassah convention to be held in the Hotel Copley Plaza, Boston.

On November 2, throughout the country, Balfour Day will be celebrated as the day when the Jewish people were promised in 1917 during the first world war the return of Palestine.

Membership Chairman Mrs. L. F. Kohn introduced the new members. A social period followed, with hostesses being Mesdames A. Cohen, C. Cushman, A. Fisher, H. Frank, E. Haines, T. H. Martin, N. Rosen, M. Rosenberg, A. Samuels and D. Victor.

Withdraws From American-Soviet Friendship Group

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Dr. Robert L. Johnson, president of Temple University, announced his withdrawal today from the Council of American-Soviet Friendship because the organization allegedly has become "a mouthpiece for the Kremlin."

The Temple president became the fourth Philadelphia sponsor of the council to resign recently. The latest were Dr. Thomas S. Gates, chairman of the board of the University of Pennsylvania, and the Rev. S. Taggart Steele Jr., rector of St. Luke's church, Germantown. Dr. Johnson said he decided to quit the council when he found it opposed "the Bureau foreign policy program." Such opposition, he added, caused him to "lose confidence" in the council.

Nationally, five prominent sponsors of the organization have resigned. They were: Former Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, U. S. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, Judge Learned Hand, Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and William L. Batt, former vice chairman of the War Production Board, the fourth Philadelphian to withdraw.

Not To Penalize Non-Union Workers Idled By Strikes

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The unemployment compensation board of review today followed in three new decisions its policy of exempting persons involuntarily made idle by strikes from a four-week penalty.

The board ruled that persons not affiliated with striking unions and who were "ready, able and willing to work" were involved in an involuntary work stoppage.

The decisions reversing rulings of the bureau of unemployment compensation covered claims of 27 employees of the Bethlehem Steel company of Bethlehem, Earle E. Graves of Pottstown, employed at the company's plant in Pottstown, and Tim F. Driscoll of Crum Lynne, worker at the Baldwin Locomotive Works in Erie.

In all instances, they were made idle January 21 of this year when strikes were called by the United Steel Workers of America (CIO). None was affiliated with the union, the board reported.

Error Made In Air Mail Story

Mail Departure From Here Listed As Morning, When It Should Have Been Evening

Through an error, in the story published yesterday, showing comparisons between the time of departure and time of arrival of mail sent by air mail and by rail, it was stated that mail dispatcher from here at 7 o'clock in the morning would arrive at its point of destination at varying times for various cities.

The story should have said mail dispatched at 7 o'clock in the evening, would arrive at the times shown in the schedule.

Postmaster Hannas states that air mail were posted in New Castle at 2:30 p. m., will be delivered in Los Angeles, Calif., the next morning.

Air mail posted in New Castle Post Office at 2:30 p. m., will be delivered in Miami, Florida, at 5:45 a. m. next morning or in Havana, Cuba, at noon, and in the Canal Zone the second morning.

COAL + WATER + FIRE = ELECTRICITY

and ELECTRICITY

plus an Electric Range equals

the PERFECT COOKING METHOD

Tongues of white hot flame spout into the huge boilers of our generating plant. This fire from pulverized coal transforms water into super-heated steam that whirls generators at tremendous speed. Then, silently, the clean energy of electricity streaks along wire highways to your home, far from the fire and water of our plant. So your clean electric range is energized by the invisible power of this century. Here you have fully automatic operation... accurately controlled and scientifically distributed heat... a cool, clean kitchen... uniform results... healthful, economical meals... safe, modern operation. The only cooking method that can give you all these benefits is Electric Cooking.

Perhaps you're wondering how soon you can enjoy the advantages of an Electric Range. Though production of ranges has risen sharply, there still aren't enough to fill all the demands. Contact your appliance dealer tomorrow and let him tell you how soon you can own one. An Electric Range is worth waiting for.

China's Problems Told Kiwanians

Young Jewish Teacher Tells Club About Troubles Confronting China

MANTZ RE-ELECTED CLUB SECRETARY

Members of the New Castle Kiwanis Club have a better knowledge of China and her problems as a result of the address given before the club on Wednesday, following the noon luncheon, by David H. Zysman, a former resident.

Mr. Zysman, although but 24 years of age, has lived in China for the past ten years, and has been a keen observer of what was going on about him. As a result, he knows a great deal about the land of mystery.

He operated a radio station in Shanghai, known as the Voice of Democracy, until the Japanese occupation, and then became a teacher in a Jewish high school. He came to the United States a year ago.

The Chinese people themselves, he stated, are intelligent and if given the opportunity are honest in their dealings. They do not like Occidentals because of the fact that they have been exploited too often by people of the white race, but they respect the Americans more than people of any other of the white races, particularly the soldiers, because they are not the Chinese soldiers, who live off the land wherever they go.

Economic Conditions Chaotic

The only difference between the occupation of any territory by Chinese troops whether they be Nationalist or Communist, is that the Communists give the residents of the particular territory they are occupying, a receipt for what they have taken.

Economic conditions in China, he stated, are chaotic. A 1946 automobile costs the equivalent of $18,000 in American money, and $100,000 in Chinese money is worth only one American dollar.

Mr. Zysman stated that China was rich in natural resources. The country has valuable deposits of minerals and oil, and the soil is fertile, but the farmers lack modern farming implements, and hence cannot produce much. In times of famine, they often bring their children into the cities and sell them into slavery because they cannot support them.

Sun Yat Sen Praised

Sun Yat Sen, he stated, was the only honest Chinese politician they ever had, but unfortunately he died too soon. Both the Communists and Nationalists, when they explain their acts, state that this was what Sun Yat Sen would have wanted them to do.

Chang Kai Shek, he stated, while a dictator does not wield complete authority in China. He is the leader of a group of warlords and politicians who have banded themselves together and control the government of China.

Each region in China has its own military head, who levies taxes, coins money, and regulates the conduct of the people in his territory. The Nationalists, he stated, are gradually absorbing all of the territory in Japan, because they have the better equipped armies, and before long, he was of the opinion that the Communists would have to go underground. The Communists he stated, sense this but are afraid to lay down their arms for fear they will be arrested and punished.

China had wanted to get control of the industrial might which Japan had built up during the occupation of Manchuria, but Russia explained its seizure of this by the fact that it was put there by the Japs, and that Russia needed it to replace that which was destroyed by the Germans during the war.

Following the close of the meeting, the directors of the club met and elected L. C. Mantz secretary for the coming year, a post which he has now held since a year after the club was organized, 27 years ago.

Snow Fence Soon Will Be Erected

HARRISBURG—Highway department maintenance crews shortly after November 1, will begin the erection of snow fences to eliminate drifting during the winter season.

Under the law snow fences cannot be erected by the department until after November 1. That date is fixed so as to reduce to a minimum the interference with farmers working in the fields. The snow fence must be removed each spring by April 1.

Although the department was unable to purchase any new snow fences this year it still has approximately 13,000,000 feet of serviceable fence remaining from previous years.

"It has not been possible to purchase any additional snow fence this year," the field workers have been told. "Full advantage must be taken of all of the snow fence you have on hand."

The work of placing the fence is to be completed without delay. The law gives the department the right to enter private property for the erection of snow fence to eliminate drifting conditions.

PLAN TO BRING 88 RENTAL AREAS UNDER CONTROLS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—INS.—The OPA announced today that 88 rental areas with a 1940 population of 3,885,379 will be brought under rent control on Friday.

The agency said that 81 of the areas are being controlled for the first time.

Controls are being restored in the remaining seven areas. At the same time, the Bluefield, W. Va., area will be extended to include Boone, Fayette and Summers counties.

The new and recontrolled areas which had a total of 323,549 rental units in 1940, will bring under rent control a total of 650 areas. OPA said that there will be few additional areas going under controls in the future, because today's list covers those in which rent pressures have been mounting since the war.

Included in the areas are 23 college towns where the influx of students and veterans enrolling under the GI Bill or Rights has been an important factor in the housing shortage.

Is your child underweight, listless, nervous, timid?

New Wartime Food Discovery!

"HEP" will bring many weak, nervous children up to par!

What is "HEP"?

HEP stands for the two most important food values your child needs. H-E is for the Healthful Energy you get from calories . . . P is for the Protein that builds strong bodies.

Wartime food research discovered that enough HEP corrects what is perhaps our most common food deficiency. The lack of HEP may cause loss of weight, flabby muscles, listlessness, slow growth.

TIP-TOP gives your child HEP!
Tip-Top Bread is rich in HEP. What's more, Tip-Top contains HEP in the natural balance scientists say is best for children. Serve Enriched Tip-Top—the bread with HEP—at every meal. Be sure your child gets enough HEP.

Better Texture, Better Flavor

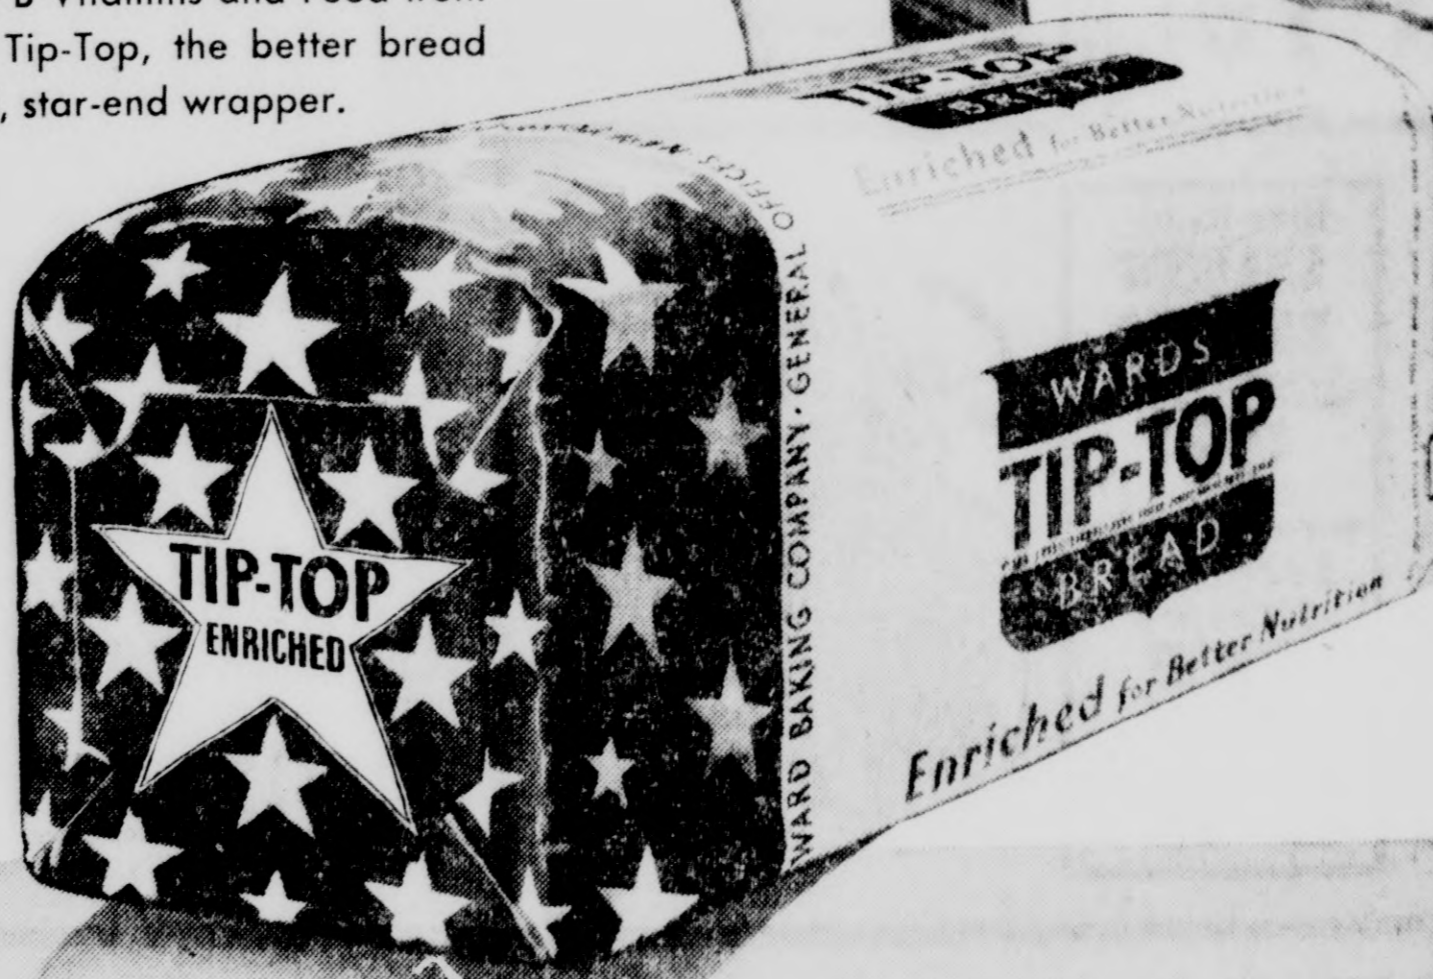

Only Tip-Top has the "gentle-kneading" process that is like the hand method our grandmothers used. Gives Tip-Top better texture . . . better flavor. And Tip-Top is enriched, too, gives you B Vitamins and Food Iron. Look for Tip-Top, the better bread in the red, star-end wrapper.

Teamsters Study Move On Embargo On Food Supply

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Officials of the AFL Teamsters International today continued making a study of Pittsburgh's food supply in an effort to determine the most judicious time to clamp an embargo on all rail shipments arriving in the industrial center.

The teamsters' Pittsburgh local voted overwhelmingly last night in favor of the embargo proposal which members believe will help them in their jurisdictional brewery dispute with the CIO United Brewery Workers.

The proposal granted the union's policy committee power to place the embargo into effect whenever the committee deemed it necessary.

The resolution was voted upon after it was announced that the railroads were hauling coal to the three Pittsburgh breweries. The coal normally is hauled by trucks manned by teamsters' members.

The embargo was scheduled to go into effect last week but union officials cancelled the action until a survey could be made in Pittsburgh. The teamsters propose to haul all essentials into the city via union-manned trucks.

Meanwhile, the teamsters continued to press for a temporary court injunction that would restrain local beer distributors from handling CIO made and delivered beer.

QUEEN ELIZABETH DOCKS IN ENGLAND
SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Oct. 31.—(INS)—The Queen Elizabeth completed her first west-east crossing of the Atlantic as a converted luxury liner on schedule today.

The big liner docked at Southampton at 2:00 a. m. British time. The Elizabeth made the crossing in five days, and three hours at an average speed of 29½ knots.

Only a few crews of dockworkers were on hand to welcome the Queen.

Woman Demands UN Turn To God

Bronx Spectator Accuses Delegates That They Have Forsaken God At Sessions

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—(INS)—A flashing-eyed woman, in her early thirties, caused no little consternation at the opening of the United Nations general assembly Wednesday when she rose from her seat and demanded that delegates "Let God into their deliberations."

The young woman, who gave her name as Mary Barden of Kingsbridge, The Bronx, jumped from a seat in the spectators' section and shouted:

"I have a message from God! The United Nations needs God, but you will not let him in!"

Marines and UN security officers rushed to her side and quickly ushered her into the lobby where she was allowed to watch assembly proceedings by television.

Miss Barden, who had reservations in the public section, brought four students whom she met outside the gate with her.

From her vantage point in the lobby, the small, dark-haired woman pointed to the telecast and shouted:

"Look at those empty seats in the delegates section. And consider the apathy of the public. Women will stand for hours in nylon queues, but they are not spiritual enough to turn to God for peace!"

Referring to the delegates, she said:

"God is not in their vocabulary. They refer to future negotiations for peace. The time is now! When they're dying they'll ask for God!"

Part of the loot of bandits in the neighborhood of Sydney, Australia, a few years ago, included a brick wall, 30 feet long, and six feet high, all except the frames of 20 railway locomotives, and part of a church.

Palestine Has Case Of Jitters

New Anti-British Outbreaks And Arab Warning To Truman Are Features

JERUSALEM, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Pears of new anti-British outbreaks and an Arab warning to President Truman that the Holy Land will be defended "to the last" against Jewish immigrants gave Palestine its worst case of jitters today since the violent days of mid-summer.

Tension spiraled with renewal of the hunt for members of the Jewish resistance movement believed responsible for the series of bomb and land-mine blasts that rocked the Holy Land yesterday, causing 26 casualties. One person was killed when three bombs went off at the evacuated waiting room in Jerusalem's railway station.

Nine persons were arrested as suspects in the waiting room bombing, including a woman believed to have planted the explosives.

The city has not been so uneasy since the July 22 bombing of the King David hotel which took a toll of more than 100 dead and wounded.

The new Arab warning against proposals to lower the immigration barriers to refugee Jews was contained in a cable sent to President Truman, by the Palestine higher Arab committee.

Apparently an answer to President Truman's repeated appeal for immediate admission of 100,000 Jews, the Arab message charged the policy of the United States concerning Palestine was directed against the Arab nation. It added that this involved all Arabs in neighboring states, who support the Arab cause in the Holy Land.

Further uneasiness was generated by a new attack on the Zionistist council by the Clandestine Irgun Zvai Leumi organization's radio.

The outlawed Jewish resistance organization, which has declared war on the British, assailed the Zionist group for refusal to support a campaign of violence and warned: "Irgun Zvai Leumi will fight back if attacked."

Puneral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from a Harrisville funeral home.

Surplus Material Sale Probe Begun

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—(INS)—A congressional committee attempted to trace the steps by which a junk dealer purchased several million dollars worth of government surplus for $27,000 and then re-sold it for only $1,000 profit.

Part of the surplus consisted of 643 valuable new tractor power control units worth $540 each when the sale was consummated last February and which cost the armed services originally $345,000. The government realized approximately $5,635 on the units.

Phillip Bailis, general manager of Max Bailis & Sons, Philadelphia, Pa., who purchased the contents of three warehouses, testified he re-sold most of the surplus to the Erie Steel Co., Inc., of Philadelphia, for a profit of $900 to $1,000.

J. P. Brown, vice-president of the Erie Steel Co., informed the committee that he, in turn, sold the surplus as "useable material" rather than scrap. Brown said Bailis was restricted to selling the surplus as scrap, but that he was not bound by this. Emanuel Eschwege, committee investigator, declared Erie Steel Co. re-sold individual pieces of machinery to Giles and Ransome, Philadelphia jobbers, at a substantial profit.

Farm Security To Change Its Name

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The Farm Security Administration's 110 offices in 11 northeastern states closed their doors today, preparatory to opening tomorrow with a new name.

The new agency will be the Farmers' Home Administration—a merger of the FSA and the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Service.

Regional FSA Director J. H. Wood emphasized that the merger will not eliminate any services previously performed by the two organizations. During its 10-year history, Wood said, FSA has loaned almost three-quarters of a billion dollars, removed "dustbowlers" during droughts, built migratory labor camps, made emergency purchases of livestock during wartime feed and labor shortages, and developed resettlement and subsistence homesteads.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

ARE INTRODUCTIONS ESSENTIAL

"Recently I attended a wedding reception, at which I knew only the bride, the bridegroom and the bride's mother. The bride introduced me to those in the receiving line and her mother introduced me to the groom's mother, etc., standing nearby. However, I found myself seated beside strangers to whom I had never been introduced. I talked with them, nevertheless. Should I not have been introduced to all those present? Was it proper for me to talk to them without being introduced?"

Answer: At a very large party, it is impossible for one to be introduced to all present, so you are free to talk to all those who show inclination to be friendly and beside whom you find yourself seated. At a large dinner party or wedding reception, it is essential that you speak to those seated on either side of you, even though you have not met. It is customary, however, for those seated together at dinner to be introduced before going to the dining room. At a small gathering general introductions are made.

Some people are very friendly and like to talk to everyone; others are restrained and aloof. Let their reactions guide you as to whether to go or turn your conversation channels elsewhere. You did the correct thing in talking to friendly guests seated near you.

Question: Are the words: Vice president, vice admiral, vice consul correctly written with or without the hyphen? Also what of son-in-law and daughter-in-law?

Answer: Most titles beginning with "vice" are written with or without a hyphen. When no hyphen is used, however, the words are separated, for instance: Vice admiral, vice president, vice consul. Son-in-law and daughter-in-law must be hyphenated. This applies to all words made up of nouns and prepositional phrases.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to question from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WOUNDED IN ACCIDENT

CAMDEN N. J., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Sigmund Gambouski, 32-year-old bakery employee, and 15-year-old John Bechta, son of the proprietor, were at work in a Camden bakery today when one of them came across a 32-caliber revolver in a drawer.

Police said that as young Bechta examined the weapon, Gambouski turned his back and bent over.

The revolver went off accidentally, police continued. A few seconds later Gambouski was en route to Cooper hospital with a bullet wound in the target area.

Burns Are Fatal To Harrisville Woman

HARRISVILLE, Oct. 31.—Flames from a small gas stove that set fire to the dress of a Harrisville woman, two months ago, burning her seriously on the back, arms, and neck, resulted in her death at 4:30 a. m. Wednesday, at the Grove City Hospital.

The victim, Mrs. Grace Elmer Walters, aged 55, was preparing her evening meal when she suffered the burns which covered the entire upper portion of her body.

Born in New Wilmington, she was the daughter of Palum and Emma Jane St. Clair Redman. She leaves her husband, three step-daughters and a brother.

Puneral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from a Harrisville funeral home.

VELVET'S BEST FOR BAKING . . . YOU SHOULD HEAR MY FAMILY TELL IT

—says Mrs. David Williams

Try a Velvet JELLY ROLL

3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup cold water
1 cup Velvet Cake Flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
Jam or marmalade
Maraschino cherries
Cream icing (if desired)

METHOD
Beat eggs until light and continue to sugar gradually and continue to beat until light and fluffy. Add the water. Stir dry ingredients together and add gradually to the egg mixture, folding in carefully. Add the vanilla. Grease jelly roll pan (12" x 15"), place jelly roll paper on bottom and grease again. Spread batter on this and bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Turn out at once on a tea towel and remove waxed paper. Spread with desired jelly or jam and roll up. Then wrap tightly with a tea towel and ice with cream icing and garnish with Maraschino cherries or roll jelly roll in powdered sugar.

Where Velvet is Best Known

Women Buy More VELVET Than Any Other Cake Flour

Actual survey shows Velvet ahead of all other cake flours

Yes—ma'am—it's true. An amazing independent survey actually showed that where Velvet is best known women buy more Velvet than any other cake flour.

There's a reason for this. They say they get the best results when they use Velvet. The tenderest, flakiest pastry—the fluffiest, lightest cakes—that's what every woman wants, and Henkel's Velvet

Cake Flour can help you to get them. Velvet is such a wonderful flour because its quality is carefully controlled. It's uniform—every bag just the way it should be.

Just try this great flour and see if you don't join all the other good cooks who say, "Velvet's tops."

C.I.O. Marchers In Demonstration At Pittsburgh Brewery

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—

Between 300 and 500 CIO members marched on a Pittsburgh brewery today (singing members of the AFL Teamsters Union following a night of violence in the bitter jurisdictional war between the two labor bodies).

The CIO demonstration lasted for about an hour. The men milled around and listened to speeches and then marched off.

Meanwhile, State police said that an arsonist was suspected of a fire last night which destroyed the beer distributing establishment of Ralph Staudt in nearby Zelienople. Damage was estimated at $500.

Earlier in the brewery war, Staudt's brother, William, a brewery employee, was beaten by a gang of men while riding on a beer truck.

At the same time police reported that windows in two taverns and two beer distributing places were smashed. They blamed the present AFL-CIO war for the destruction.

Discover Baby In Mud Puddle

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—

A dark-haired blue-eyed nude baby girl, believed to be only one hour old, today was found in a mud puddle in the Frankford section of Philadelphia.

Police said Mrs. Lillian Mazzoni (of 316 Leiper street) awakened and heard a baby crying in the rear of the adjoining house. Her husband, Anthony, leaped the fence, found the child and summoned Patrolman James Martin.

Martin took the child to Frankford hospital where Dr. William A. Doan treated her for exposure. Dr. Doan said the infant apparently had been delivered without medical aid.

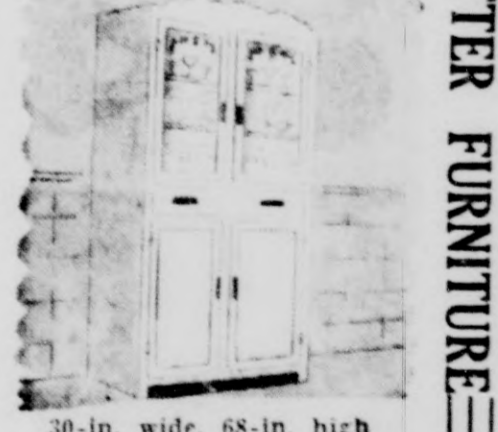

Except for 1914 and 1915, the International Live Stock Show has been held in Chicago annually since the beginning of the present century.

New Phone Link On Pennsy Train Near Completion

Engine-To-Car, Train-To-Tower System On Harrisburg To Pittsburgh Run Soon

Installation of the first large scale, permanent system of train-to-train, locomotive-to-car, car, and train-to-tower continuous telephone communication is nearing completion on the four-track main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh, Pa., it was announced today.

Including an earlier installation on an important branch in New Jersey, the Pennsylvania now has the train telephone in 150 passenger locomotives, 131 freight locomotives, 100 cab cars, and 16 wayside control towers, making a total of 387 units. Three hundred ninety miles of line, including 1,536 miles of main tracks, are covered. All new locomotives on order for service on the main lines are to be equipped.

Railroad officials pointed out that, although several wayside stations and some locomotives and cab cars remain to be equipped, the train telephone system is now in operation on a 24-hour daily experimental basis, for the entire distance between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh. Begun more than two years ago, the installation project has been delayed by severe material shortages. Development of the system has been in collaboration with the Union Switch & Signal Company. The total cost to the railroad will be more than $1,000,000.

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

Antioch, general view.

"Through love be servants one to another."—Galatians 5:13.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The International Union Lesson on the above topic for November 3 is Acts 15:1-35; Galatians 5:13-18, the Memory Verse being Galatians 5:13. Through love be servants one to another."

In last week's lesson we found Paul preaching Christ to the Gentiles, when disbelieving Jews refused to accept the gospel. In this one we see how he championed the cause of the Gentiles, and won his point. An eminent churchman has called this 15th chapter of Acts the "Magna Charta of the Christian church."

The chapter starts by telling of "certain men" who came to Antioch, where Paul and Barnabas had such great success in preaching to those not of Jewish blood, and insisting that unless the new converts would allow themselves to obey the old Jewish rite of circumcision, they could not belong to the church, or be saved. This rite differentiated the Jews from all other peoples, and these men felt it was necessary for all who joined the church to obey the Old Testament mandate.

This was a serious matter and the first dissension in the young church. Paul and Barnabas had converted many Gentiles and they felt it was not necessary for them to virtually become Jews to be saved. It was a matter for the elders at Jerusalem to decide, so it was agreed that Paul and Barnabas should go at once to Jerusalem to lay the matter and their arguments before the church fathers, for their could not be two denominations, one Jewish, the other Gentile. The Apostles, the Twelve, were members of the church at Jerusalem, and it was only fair that the dispute be submitted to them and to see if they would uphold Paul and Barnabas or the others. Others from the other side of the dispute went also. Passing through Phoenicia and Samaria, the two continued, "declaring the conversion of the Gentiles; and they caused great joy unto all the brethren." Arrived in Jerusalem, "they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them."

Certain of the Pharisees who believed presented their case, and the apostles and elders gathered to consider the matter. Peter upheld Paul and Barnabas, saying that God had decided that the Gentiles should hear the gospel, and "God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as He did unto us, And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith."

The multitude kept silence after this and called upon Paul and Barnabas, who declared "what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them." When they had finished, James spoke, declaring that God "did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for His name." He concluded his remarks by declaring, "Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God: But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood."

After this "pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas, namely Judas, surnamed Barsabbas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren." They wrote letters, as James had suggested, telling the Gentiles, "as much as we have heard that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law, unto whom we gave no such commandment."

"It seemed good to us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth."

Then they stated the rules that they had all agreed upon as necessary for Gentiles to obey as well as Jews, and which have been mentioned before in this lesson. "For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things."

The four were then dismissed and proceeded to Antioch, where they gathered many together, preached and read the letter, and there was great rejoicing.

Judas and Silas, being prophets also, "exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them." After they had tarried awhile Judas went away, but Silas stayed with Paul and Barnabas, who, having won their point and saved the church from division, "continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also." Communists Flee Shanghai Fearing Peace Breakdown

SHANGHAI, Oct. 31.—(INS)—It was learned today that almost the entire Shanghai staff of Communist Negotiator Chou En-Lai fled to Hong Kong during the past week, apparently fearful for their lives in event of a final breakdown in peace negotiations.

This evacuation, which must have been ordered by General Chou or even higher Communist party officials, was coupled with the return to Red headquarters at Yenan of several hundred Communist personnel from Nanking, Peiping and Chungking.

The two moves were interpreted as indications that Communist negotiators are not hopeful of a settlement in China's Civil War agreeable to Communist heads.

The Shanghai evacuees, including a number of editors of Communist papers and magazines, left by ship and were believed to number about fifteen.

Although they have been guaranteed safe passage to Yenan in event of full scale civil war, it was indicated they were fearful of reprisals.

A further indication that China may be on the eve of total civil war was seen in the return to Shanghai of the leaders of the two Chinese minor parties. They were Carson Chang, leader of the Social Democratic party, and Tso Shun-shun, leader of the Young China party.

These men, who refused to see newsmen upon their return from Nanking, started the third party mediation efforts which eventually led to Chou's return to Nanking for talks with Nationalists.

Near Phoenix, Ariz., are the ruins of Aztec community houses, hieroglyphic rocks, Indian mounds, and Cactus National Park.

Say Hotel Strike 'Hopeless' Case

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—A three-man federal consultation panel today reported the Pittsburgh hotel strike "hopelessly deadlocked" and urged that the disputed contract be settled by arbitration.

Elmer T. Bell, chairman of the conciliators, announced that he and his associates would remain in the city for "another day or two" to await the decision of representatives of the AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employees Alliance and officials of the eight strike bound hotels.

Bell said only four major issues were holding up settlement of the 30-day-old strike which has closed the leading hotels in the city. The disputed points, he said, were "wages, a 40-hour week, free meals for employees and the administration of an insurance plan."

Four cases make up natural gas, methane, ethane, propane and butane.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN GOOD GOVERNMENT?

Today we would like to inform you on how our candidate stands on the problem of state institutions. Realizing in the state of Pennsylvania, the richest industrial state in the union, the need for adequate legislation for the care of tuberculosis and mental patients, he proposes to fight for appropriate monies to be spent to rectify this condition. When the present facilities capable of taking care of only 50% of its requirements, such a condition demands action.

The state of Pennsylvania now ranks 19th in the care of its mental patients.

If elected our candidate will propose legislation leading to the curative process rather than just confinement of said cases. Provisions must be made to make available the use of new drugs when it is financially beyond the reach of the average income. He also stands for the establishment of research laboratories which will aid in the cure of said illnesses.

A Vote for Armond is a Vote for Good Government.

The last lap is the hardest!

You've probably figured your present car won't have to last much longer.

We hope you're right. For our part, we're doing our best to get those grand new Packards to our customers.

You know the situation

But, like every other motor car manufacturer, Packard is still struggling with parts and materials shortages.

This year, the industry as a whole has been able to build only 41% of its output for the same period in 1941.

Packard has done better than that, but we'd like to put in a word of caution:

It may be some time yet before you get behind the wheel of your new car.

Don't take a chance!

Make sure your present car keeps rolling. Test your car with this easy quiz.

If you find any of these symptoms, bring your car in for a quick check-up.

Lots of cars are lasting longer and running better because our expert mechanics are trained to nip trouble before it takes hold!

WINTERIZE NOW! These days, it's doubly important to beat winter to the punch. Bring your car in early for a thorough check-up of your battery, electrical system, and cooling system—as well as pre-winter lubrication and engine tune-up. The last-minute rush will be terrific—and the first cold snap may damage hard-to-get parts!

P.S. Fenders, doors, running boards—in fact, all body parts are scarce. Don't let rust eat them away. Our protective treatment will add to your car's life, appearance and value.

1. ENGINE: Is smoke coming out of the exhaust? Are you using more oil than you used to? If "Yes," better have your piston rings looked at.

2. CLUTCH: Can you push the pedal down 1" to 1½" before the clutch starts to release? If the distance is less than that, better have it adjusted.

3. STEERING: Measure amount of "free play" from "A" to "B" and from "A" to "C." Two inches or more indicates too much lost motion before wheels begin to turn.

Van Zandt Guest Of Local Veterans

Past National Commander Of V.E.W. And Former Congressman Are Honored At Dinner

James E. Van Zandt, of Altoona, Pa., three times national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, was a guest at a dinner given in the Castleton Wednesday evening, prior to the political rally for veterans in the Arena.

Van Zandt is a veteran of both World Wars One and Two, and will soon be released from service by the Navy.

Guests included both members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Van Zandt, in a brief talk to the veterans, reminded them that they must become more politically conscious of events that are going on in the world, and to organize to support legislation, both in the interests of their comrades, and the things that veterans should stand for in national affairs.

At the present time, Van Zandt sees a grave danger of our national defense deteriorating to the point that we would be worse off than we were prior to the declaration of war, and feels that only veterans can appreciate this fact and do something about it.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Strike-weary Pittsburghers breathed a little easier today when it was announced that "some progress" was being made in contract negotiations between officials of Pittsburgh's leading department stores and the nine unions representing the stores' 10,000 employees. Further meetings were scheduled for today. Samuel Robb, secretary of the Labor Standards Association, reported.

Rose Avenue Pupils Receiving Check-Ups

Miss Katherine Lienert Will Resume Teaching Duties At Oak Street After Serving In Wacs

Pupils of the New Castle Public Schools these days, are not only learning the care of the bodies through books and outdoor exercise, but with the assistance of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, are receiving thorough physical and dental examinations, which will enable their parents to provide corrective measures where such are necessary in the bodies of their children.

Physical examiners move from school during the year until the students of one, three, five, seven and ninth grades have received a complete checkup in the presence of their parents. In order that they may consult with the physicians as to what remedial steps may be taken when defects are found in their children.

Wednesday, the health examiners were working in the Rose Avenue Grade School, with an excellent response being given by the parents, by being present when their child or children were being examined. The physicians expect to complete their work at Rose avenue on Friday, and will move to the Thaddeus Stevens school on Monday.

To Have Movie

Students at Rose avenue are thrilled over the fact that Principal John Cornelius has booked for them the motion picture, "The Daniel Boone" which will be shown to the boys and girls on November 12. The picture consists of eight reels and is a sound movie.

Science teacher, Miss Anna Tillia, has added to her collection of slides, colored slides of moths, butterflies and insects which are shown with the aid of the school's delineator.

This afternoon, the boys and girls will come to school in costume and will conduct their annual Halloween party in the school. The pupils will march from room to room so that even boy and girl can witness the costumes of their fellow students. Refreshments in the various rooms, will wind up the afternoon activities.

Mr. Cornelius, who is also principal of the Oak Street school, reported that one of the teachers from that school, Miss Katherine Lienert, who has been serving with the WAC for the past two years will return to the school on November 12, to resume her duties as teacher of the second grade. Miss Lienert has been serving in New Mexico.

Weather Ideal For Late Crops

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Conditions were most ideal for maturing late summer vegetable crops during the forepart of October—a bit too warm for many fall crops, but very good for harvest work—the State Department of Agriculture reports following Federal-State surveys.

Marketing of summer vegetables were limited by slow demand during the period. With the falling out of late summer vegetables there is now an abundance of early fall crops, the Department said.

There has been a slow but steady increase in volume of late crops, but most crops are still in the ground due to the lack of demand. There are a few crops of late Danish cabbage left to harvest in the eastern part of the State. Digging of late carrots has begun on a relatively small scale, but demand is lagging, the report declared.

Harvest of celery in the southeastern area has been slowed down somewhat due to poor market conditions. Growers plan to save much of their crop for holiday markets. In many crops of fall spinach are maturing earlier than usual but cutting is being delayed by the lack of demand and low prices.

Few tomatoes were available by mid-October and at that time, due to the small volume being moved, the crop was considered as being practically over.

Enlist 243 GI's In State Police

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—Since the training of Student Recruits was resumed at the Pennsylvania State Police Training School, Hershey, Pennsylvania, on October 1, 1945, there have been 243 veterans of World War II enlisted and assigned to the school.

Of this number, 114 have completed the six month course of training and are now assigned to traffic duty in the field.

The force now numbers 1443 men, including the Student Recruits still in training and 42 policemen serving in the armed forces. The authorized strength of the State Police is 1600.

Mobile Telephone Service
S. E. Phillips, general commercial manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, was the principal speaker at the annual luncheon held in the ball room of the hotel at noon. His subject was "Mobile Telephone Service" in which he described the development of the radio telephone service.

Mr. Phillips explained that there are two types of radio telephone service, highway and urban. From thirty to fifty automobiles may be served through one channel. Mr. Phillips said with selective signaling so that only the person called will get the signal.

Urban service is now in operation in nine cities and within the next week will be inaugurated in eight cities. The ultimate of radio telephone service is to make it possible for any one at any time to talk to any one else in the world. This would include people on boats, planes, trains or cars.

Ames E. Brown, Toastmaster

Ames E. Brown the retiring president was toastmaster of the luncheon and first introduced J. Frank Cox, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. Mr. Cox welcomed the guests and spoke of the co-operation between the Bell and the independent companies.

Westminster Faces Tough Geneva Eleven Saturday

Demoise And Bruno Standout Performers In Expected Battle

Westminster Titans Undefeated But Tied Twice, Hopeful Of Chasing "Jinx"

Coach Mel Hetzer Can Field Team Without Injuries If All Goes Well

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 31.—While Westminster college is faced with the job of stopping Bill Bruno, Geneva's high scoring ace, when the teams meet at Farrell Saturday, the Westminster coaches also have a defensive problem to solve. His name is Joe Demoise, Titan fullback.

Demoise, a sophomore from Greensburg, is playing his first season at fullback and is writing Westminster history. Of Westminster's six touchdowns, Joe had scored four. His 34-yard run against Allegheny placed the ball on the 100 yard line where Mickey McDaniels, quarterback, punted over and he was on the passing end when Roy Voss scored by the aerial route against Edinboro.

National Recognition

Demoise gained national recognition in 1941 as a Titan end. He was named to the all-state eleven and to the "little" all-American. He not only runs, kicks and passes but is the team's most dependable place-kicker.

Another Titan who is expected to give Geneva trouble is Park Glass, 220-pound center from Conneville. Glass is another who made the all-state team in 1941 and his play since his return from the service has lost none of its lustre. Westminster will be in top shape for the Geneva encounter unless injuries are sustained this week. The team is undefeated in five games, having won three and tied two. A win Saturday will make the season one of the most successful in the school's history.

Terranova Defeats 'Whistling Willie'

Gotham Fighter Nearer Step Because Of Win: Defeated Boy Was In New Castle

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Phil Terranova, classy New York boxer, was a step nearer today to a title match with Featherweight Champion Willie Pep after his decisive win over "Whistling Willie" Roache in St. Louis.

Terranova outpointed Roache last night over a ten-round bout before 8,000 fans. It was Terranova's 13th consecutive victory in his current campaign to gain a match with Pep. Terranova weighed in at 129, Roache at 129.

Foregoing report recalls that "Whistling Willie" Roache was here some time ago and was introduced to fans from The Arena ring. At that time he was a patient in DeShon hospital at Butler and with others from the hospital witnessed the fight.—Sports Editor.

Only four members of Auburn's first two football teams this season were molesters in 1945. The four are Co-Captain and End Sam McClurkin, Fullback Russell, Inman, Halfback Bill Wilson and Tackle Denard Shell. Only McClurkin and Shell played as Tigers last fall.

Fast League For Legion Men

Indications Point To High Class Circuit Among County Legion Posts

With five American Legion posts represented at the meeting held in the Legion Home here this week, indications point to one of the fastest independent basketball circuits in this section, when the County League of the American Legion gets going.

Five posts were represented at the meeting, including New Castle, Ellwood City, Wampum, New Wilmington, and Bessemer. All these teams have completed arrangements for playing floors except Wampum, and they are expected to make arrangements this week.

Players must be members of their respective American Legion posts and in good standing, and the local team will be eligible to compete with those in the district, and also the state. It is announced by Earl C. Moffatt, chairman of Perry S. Gaston Post's athletic committee.

Each team is permitted to carry 12 men, and teams cannot change their playing roster after November 23, according to the state rules.

Tom McCormack is captain of the New Castle team, and already has signed up several fast men for the Perry S. Gaston post squad.

Another meeting of the league representatives will be held in the Legion Home, Monday evening, when further plans for the league will be made.

Hunting Season Opens Friday

Small Game Season, Will Be Ushered In At 9 A. M. November 1, Hunters Warned

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Game commission officials emphasized today that the 1946 hunting season will open at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Officials issued a vigorous denial of reports that the season would be delayed because of warm weather and pointed out that a postponement would have worked "a serious hardship on thousands of persons who have planned their vacations" to participate in the period.

Hunters Use Care. In a last-minute warning, officials urged sportsmen to use the utmost care in handling firearms and that landowners' property and rights be respected.

Game in season beginning tomorrow includes rabbits, squirrels, quail, pheasants, wild turkeys, quail and Hungarian partridges. The season on grouse was closed because of "an extremely low population of these popular game birds."

Moran Scores Quick 'Kayo'

Local Southpaw Makes Hit At Akron When He Knocks Out Canadian Boxer

Frankie Moran, New Castle southpaw, knocked out Eddie Zazo, Toronto, Canada, in the first round of a semi-final six round bout last night at the Manhattan Athletic Club in Akron. It was one of the quickest knockouts there in some time. Russell Baxter, clever and hard-socking middleweight of New Castle, handled Moran.

Like his handler, Moran, served in World War II, and was shot through the elbow at St. Lo. After being hospitalized in England he was brought to England hospital, Atlanta City and later convalesced in a Staten Island hospital. For a time, it was believed his boxing days were over, but nudging from his quick victory last night this was a misfit. Before entering service he fought and amassed a long string of wins in the amateur ranks.

Ray Conner, one-time mile king is in the forefront of a movement to stimulate interest in archery at Penn State.

Pittsburgh Boxer Fatally Injured

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 31.—(INS)—Medical officials of the Rhode Island State Boxing commission planned an autopsy today on Robert Burton, 24, Negro, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

He died in the ring at Arcadia hall last night after he was knocked out in the last round of a six-round bout. Burton fell to the canvas from a one-two punch to the jaw administered by his opponent and namesake, Bobby Burton, of Providence. He had already suffered a severe beating about the face.

When a physician failed to revive the boxer, Father Cavallaro, a spectator, was called into the ring and administered last rites.

New Castle Faces Tough Battle At Aliquippa Friday

Bridenbaugh Reports Several Regulars Injured For Friday Tussle

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football team may not be at top strength for the game at Aliquippa Friday night, it was reported by Coach Phil Bridenbaugh today. Several of the regulars are nursing injuries that may keep them sidelined. The game starts at 8 o'clock.

The New Castle team will leave for the valley evening from the "Y" it was announced by Faculty Manager Robert Mills. A squad of about 35 players will probably make the trip.

Expect Tough Battle. On the injured list are John DiCola, Paul Cripe and Lou Gihmore, with "Lullaby" Brown suffering from a swollen chin. Tony Clavetti was not injured, this being a misunderstanding. He will be ready for play Friday. Bridenbaugh stated, along with Gihmore, Zarone and Cripe, if his injured angle responds to treatment, which is doubtful.

Should DiCola not be able to play, Peluso is slated for a starting berth, his first this year at tackle. New Castle is going to try hard to annex win number six this year, their fourth in Class AA circles. Aliquippa has a powerhouse team despite two previous losses, and will give the New Castle boys a lot of anxious moments. Friday, Nickie Uram, former New Castle High star, is an assistant to Head Coach Carl Aschmann at Aliquippa.

Bednarik Anchors Mighty Penn Line

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Chuck Bednarik, husky anchor of the Navy football team, today was one of the most improved players of the squad, according to line coach Joe Crowley.

The center ran riot over the Navy backfield last week and broke up enemy passes hurled by the midshipmen. He also made his second pass interception of the season, both of which set up touchdowns.

He returned one in the Navy game for 28 yards, and in the Lafayette tilt, he ran one back for 41 yards.

PENNSYLVANIA'S shotgun brigade will blast at small game at 9 a. m. Friday, the season legally coming in at that time. Daily shooting hours thereafter are 7 a. m. until 5 p. m. The season on grouse is closed. There are few quail in the county. There are some pheasants and rabbits. Squirrels are numerous, according to reports. Here are the limits, daily and season, in order: Quail, Bobwhite, 4 and 12; Hungarian Partridges, 2 and 8; Wild Turkeys, 1 and 1; Ringneck Pheasants, males only, 2 and 8; Rabbits, cottontail, 4 and 20; Squirrels, gray, black and fox, combined kinds, 5 and 24; Red Squirrels, unlimited; Raccoon, by trapping, unlimited, the season, by individual or hunting party, having a permit, October 15, Bear season will arrive November 18 with the Deer season coming in December 1. The Duck season came in last Saturday. Hunters should obey the state game laws. Game protectors will be aided and it is likely that cars may be stopped and searched by uniformed officers. Hunters should be very respectful of the rights of the land-owners and exercise extraordinary caution with their guns. They should not shoot across a highway, towards cattle or buildings and not shoot unless they see game. Hunters should make sure they do not start fires by tossing away lighted cigarettes, cigars and matches.

And now that the hunters will be after male birds, each band was numbered, the by Jack Gerson are brought down. He placed aluminum first numeral being 7. If any hunters brings one down he should take the bird and band to Mr. Gerson. The place where it was killed and weight will be ascertained which will provide information as to how they fared after being released. The hunter who does this will receive a good lighter.

Witches will ride broomsticks, black cats will mow at the moon, dogs will bark and children in grotesque costumes will trail from door to door to collect candy, nuts, apples, cakes and what have you while their elders will dance and make merry at parties because tonight is Halloween.

John Loicasso, Ellwood City, is trying to make Bill Pezza, Ellwood City, against Shelton Bell, Youngstown, for a main battle in Ellwood City, two weeks from Friday, he reported yesterday. Under Amateur Union regulations all boxers must be signed two weeks in advance and only registered boxers may be signed. Any promoter who uses an unregistered boxer will be shorn of his license to operate. Spec Sanders, star of the 31-47 New York victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers, All-America conference, Sunday, wrote two new records into the book with his 105-3 yard kick-off return and 70-yard run from scrimmage for a touchdown. A third six-pointer on a pass from Ace Parker brought his scoring total to 42, only four points behind Lou Groza, Cleveland, who went scoreless for the first time this season when the 49ers beat the Browns. Five hundred more wall-eyes are to be placed by a Franklin concern in French creek, making 2,000 fish re-stocked to take the place of those killed by pollution. This plan was worked out by Attorney General James H. Duff who believes it more profitable for fishermen in the long run than for the state to gather in a fine of $100 for the offense. One of the most personable who are all sports events is Bill Semler. Fight fans like knock em cold, not dancing fighters. This is why Jack Dempsey is yet remembered as will Joe Louis after he hangs up the gloves. Some of the seats now at Tazgart stadium, which are to be removed, will go to other schools and some may also go to Cunningham park ball field, according to a tip to Here & There.

Douglass Calls Basketball Squad, 224 Boys Report

Preliminary Workouts Being Held At Senior High With Groups Of 30 Boys

Head Basketball Coach William Douglass at New Castle High and his assistant, Clark McClelland, will not wait for material this coming season. Recently Douglass put out a call for basketball players—224 boys reported. . . so many in fact that Douglass was perplexed at first, but divided them into groups of 30.

Basketball at New Castle High does not start until Friday night, December 6, and by that time Douglass and McClelland will have a working squad on hand and just how good remains to be seen as time goes on, but right now there are 224 young men interested in making the team and that's what counts.

Low On Veterans

Douglass is going to be low on veteran players this year. He has had the basketball team here and will have from the first team this year as holdovers Gene Gribble, Don Black and Spears with varsity experience, and a small group of reserves from last year.

Ben Franklin and George Washington has supplied several fine looking prospects to help out this year and Douglass may be able to develop some fine players out of the list on hand.

Four Veterans Gone

In the group of 224 boys reporting there are 91 sophomores, 78 juniors and 46 seniors. The turnout has surpassed anything like it in the history of the school, officials contend.

Gone from the varsity through graduation and moving away are—Dick Whitaker, Al Koszela and "Doc" Damonski with the possibility that Stan Grybowski, a regular last year, will be unable to play this year having injured his foot in football.

Douglass is working out with the boys each day at Senior High, 30 at a time, and hopes to be able in a few weeks to pick a working squad.

Beagle Area Is Closed To Hunting

Shenango Valley Beagle club training area, lying between the Nassau road and the railroad, has been closed to hunting, according to a statement issued today by Harry Brinton, club secretary. He said that members of the club would patrol the area tomorrow.

The center ran riot over the Navy backfield last week and broke up enemy passes hurled by the midshipmen. He also made his second pass interception of the season, both of which set up touchdowns.

He returned one in the Navy game for 28 yards, and in the Lafayette tilt, he ran one back for 41 yards.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Most line men use considerable weight during the football season but not Bernie Gallagher, right tackle for the University of Pennsylvania.

Gallagher checked into Penn's training camp at Hershey at the beginning of the season with a weight of 197 pounds. In seven weeks, he has gained 22 pounds.

Bratton is not off six straight triumphs and enjoys a nine-year age advantage over his Gary, Ind. opponent, who's 28.

Joyce lost to a Tippy Larkin in a junior welterweight championship try last time out.

His kid brother, Gene Joyce, will be on tonight's program too facing Billy Tierney of Cleveland in a six-round 140-pound supporting fray.

Union Ready To Battle Mercer

Union Team Will Go To Grove City For 3 P. M. Game With Mercer High Friday

Union high's Scotics, after being down in their last two games are working hard under the tutelage of coaches Dinamore and "Pat" Patterson to make a come back against the rugged Mercer high eleven. The Unionites are traveling to Grove City to play the Mercer county boys on the Grove City high field in a game starting at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

This being the last game of the year for Union's fighting Blue Devils they intend to make retribution for their last two defeats. They are in good shape following their battle with Hickory last Wednesday.

Union's line will be nearly the same as in previous games and the backfield will have Rex Court at quarterback, James at fullback and Redabaugh in the fullback positions.

Union having defeated Bessemer by a 7 to 0 while Bessemer in turn trapped Mercer 10-0, giving Union the odds to win in this game. Union's pool showing against Shenango and Hickory changes the odds considerably. The game should be closely contested one with top score going to the team with the most breaks.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Most line men use considerable weight during the football season but not Bernie Gallagher, right tackle for the University of Pennsylvania.

Gallagher checked into Penn's training camp at Hershey at the beginning of the season with a weight of 197 pounds. In seven weeks, he has gained 22 pounds.

Bratton is not off six straight triumphs and enjoys a nine-year age advantage over his Gary, Ind. opponent, who's 28.

Joyce lost to a Tippy Larkin in a junior welterweight championship try last time out.

His kid brother, Gene Joyce, will be on tonight's program too facing Billy Tierney of Cleveland in a six-round 140-pound supporting fray.

Franklin-Sharon Grid Game Today

City-County Junior High Champs Expect Easy Time With Sharon Today

With an indicated wet field the Ben Franklin Junior High, undefeated, unscored on and untied, are playing the Sharon Junior High gridgers today at the stadium in their final game of the season. The kickoff was slated for 3:30 o'clock.

Coach Austin Cosmeadow is highly confident that his boys will windup the season in the undefeated category. Franklin holds the city-county championship this year, having defeated both George Washington and Ellwood City.

Pitt Panthers Indiana Bound

Bobby Lee Will Start Against Indiana Saturday, Hoosiers Are Tough Stuff

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31.—Still seeking its first win over a Western Conference opponent since 1938, the Pitt football team will head West today toward Bloomington, Indiana, and a battle with Bo McMillin's Hoosier club.

The Panthers came out of the game with Purdue in good physical condition, but were given a day off on Monday by Coach Wes Fesler, who felt that after losing such a heartbreaker that they had a rest coming. They were back at it Tuesday afternoon, however.

No Lineup Changes. There is not likely to be any change in the starting lineup which, faced the Bolleymakers, which means that Leo Skladany and Bill McPeak will be at the ends, Jack Durshan and Bob Plotz at the line.

There is a chance that Lee Ward, crack center, who was injured in the Notre Dame game will be available for spot assignments.

Scout Lyle Clark had good things to say about the Hoosiers. The combination of the veteran Indiana line and of such great backs as Ben Raymond, the best passer in inter-collegiate ranks, and fullback Pete Phoebe to mention only a pair, are going to give the Panthers their hardest assignment of the year.

Bessemer Awaits Shenango Battle With Expectancy

Bessemer Hoping Against Hope To Upset Shenango High Wildcats Friday Night

Probably the most important football game in the county this season is the one Friday night at Bessemer high school. Starting under the lights at 8 p. m., the game brings together the teams of Shenango and Bessemer high schools.

The importance of the game can be seen in a statement by Coach Nahas of the Shenango Wildcats, printed here verbatim.

Coach Ed Nahas—I resent the strategy of Bessemer in trying to make our kids over confident when all year long we have only won two ball games, while Bessemer has won four games, including a 13-0 win over Mercer, a team which beat Shenango 19 to 0.

Interest Terrific. Coach Nahas believes that the game will be decided by breaks. Shenango dropped a 6-0 game to Evans City, Tri-county Champions for 1946. Evans City defeated Bessemer 26-0. Freedom, last week a 13-0 victim of Shenango, was played to a 9-0 tie by Bessemer early in the season.

On the other side of the ledger may be cited Bessemer's recent wins over Mercer and Zellenople. The Blue and Gold Wildcats lost to Mercer and Zellenople. The Blue and Gold Wildcats lost to Mercer 19 to 7 while Bessemer defeat them 13-6. Nahas' team tied Zellenople 6-6 and Bessemer whipped them 19-0.

Outstanding Game. It is interesting to note that the Shenango boys are willing to sacrifice personal glory for the good of their team. For instance Ronny Johns who was varsity half at the first of the year, is now playing tackle in an attempt to strengthen the line. Bob Letera, moved from half to quarter to help the offense.

Tomczyk moved from quarter to guard to help Johns on the line. All in all it will be an outstanding game with both teams fighting for the Class B pennant.

Villanova Stages Defensive Drills

VILLANOVA, Pa. Oct. 31.—(INS)—Villanova College slated defensive drills today in preparation for its meeting with the University of Miami at Philadelphia's Shibe park Friday night.

The Wildcats will be up against the "L" formation devised by Coach Jack Harding, a former Scrantonian who tutors the Miami squad. Villanova's Coach Jordan Olivar announced he will make several changes in the line to bolster his team's play against the Hurricanes.

Bratton is not off six straight triumphs and enjoys a nine-year age advantage over his Gary, Ind. opponent, who's 28.

Joyce lost to a Tippy Larkin in a junior welterweight championship try last time out.

Rates Army Tops, Notre Dame Ninth In National List

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Army's undefeated powerhouse was named the No. 1 football team of the nation today by Duke Houlgate, noted gridiron statistician, who released his rankings for the week of Oct. 27.

Houlgate's "comparative schedule" ratings put unbeaten U. C. L. A. in second spot, ahead of Georgia and Louisiana State.

Houlgate's first 15 teams:
1. Army; 2. U. C. L. A.; 3. Georgia; 4. Louisiana State; 5. North Carolina; 6. Tennessee; 7. Wake Forest; 8. Alabama; 9. Notre Dame; 10. Columbia; 11. Pennsylvania; 12. Georgia Tech; 13. Texas; 14. Mississippi State; 15. William and Mary.

Eagles And Giants Will Draw Throng

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—The Philadelphia Eagles' management today is expecting its biggest crowd of the season on Sunday when the team takes on the New York Giants at Shibe Park.

General Manager, Harry H. Thayer, announced that with the exception of 4000 general admission and 4000 standing room seats which go on sale Sunday morning, the park is a sellout.

Much interest has been aroused in the coming tilt because both teams figured in the biggest upsets of the National professional league grid season last week.

The Chicago Bears, and the Eagles brilliantly came back from a 24-0 halftime score to beat the Washington Redskins 28-24.

Penna. Power Co. Gets Recognition For Year's Safety

HERSHEY, Pa., Oct. 31.—Pennsylvania Power Company of New Castle, placed third in Group 2 of the Pennsylvania Electric Association's Annual Safety Contest, according to announcement made today by the president of the association, Francis McQuillin of Pittsburgh.

Winners of the contest to whom trophies were presented were Metropolitan Edison Company of Reading, Pennsylvania Edison Company of Altoona, and Natrona Light & Power Company of Natrona, Pa.

Awards are made annually to the Pennsylvania Electric Service Companies having the fewest accidents in proportion to manhours worked. Companies are divided into three groups—Group 1 with more than 200,000 manhours per month; Group 2 with between 60,000 and 200,000 and Group 3 with less than 60,000 manhours monthly.

This year's Group 1 trophy was awarded to Metropolitan Edison Company of Reading, whose amazing record showed only six accidents involving lost time in 2,675,171 manhours of work, a frequency rate of 2.243. Duquesne Light Co., Pittsburgh, was second in the group with a frequency rate of 3.989 and Pennsylvania Power & Light Co., Allentown, third with a frequency rate of 5.508.

Group 2 trophy winner was Pennsylvania Edison Co., Altoona, who reported only six accidents in 1,403,966 work hours for a frequency rate of 4.274. Pennsylvania Water & Power Co., Baltimore, Md., and Pennsylvania Power Co., New Castle, placed second and third with rates of 7.066 and 7.367.

Perfect records with reported by two of the Group 3 companies, the Natrona Light and Power Co., Natrona, and the Home Electric Light & Steam Heating Co., Tyrone. The group trophy was awarded to the Natrona Company because it had more manhours of work. Third place went to the Northern Pennsylvania Power Co. with an accident frequency rate of 2.652.

This contest just ended is the 17th Annual Safety Contest sponsored by the Accident Prevention Committee of the Pennsylvania Electric Association. P. L. G. Hasskari, Allentown, is chairman of the Contest Committee.

Republicans See Outcome In House As Omen For 1948

By WILLIAM THEIS (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Republican leaders are spurring their drive to capture the house in 1948 because they're convinced a victory this year will give them the presidency in 1948.

Historically, it has worked out that way.

As a result, the Republican woods is full of presidential aspirants and the eyes of congressional campaign workers are looking ahead.

Has Been Forecast

For the past half-century at least, an off-year shift of house control has meant change in the national administration two years later.

The house barometer has worked for both political parties.

Democrats won control of the house in 1891, seating 231 of their members to 88 Republicans in the 52nd congress. Two years later

Grover Cleveland, a Democrat, was elected to his second term as president.

The Republicans swept back into house control in 1895, when the 54th congress had only 104 Democrats to 246 Republicans in the lower chamber. In 1896 the GOP candidate, William McKinley, won the presidency.

Fifteen years later, the Democrats regained house control in the 62nd congress, with 288 seats to the GOP's 162, and elected Champ Clark of Missouri as speaker. In the presidential election of 1912 that followed, Woodrow Wilson won his first term in the White House.

Until Off-Year Election

Democrats clung to house control until the off-year elections of 1918 when the GOP elected 237 congressmen to the Democrats' 191 for the 66th congress. Two years later Warren G. Harding won the presidential election.

The elephant's reign in the house was broken in the 72nd congress when Republican deaths after the close 1930 elections enabled the Democrats to organize the house and name John Nance Garner to the speakership.

Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected to the first of his four terms in the November, 1932 presidential election which followed.

The "cos goes the house" thinking of GOP strategists presents an exciting prospect for at least half a dozen Republicans who stand today as potential presidential candidates.

Four of the six are candidates in this year's elections, with their 1948 chances hinging on the outcome. These are Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, seeking re-election to the New York governorship; Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg (R) Mich., up for re-election; John W. Bricker, ex-governor of Ohio, running for the U. S. senate, and Gov. Earl Warren, also up for re-election in California.

Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) Ohio and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota are not candidates but are in the thick of the '46 campaigning.

In 1941 a small force of Spaniards and Indians under Coronado traversed the region that is now the state of Kansas. The country remained unexplored, however, until 1719, when it was visited by Frenchmen from Louisiana.

PAN-HELLENIC GROUP WILL BE GUESTS FRIDAY

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 31.—The Pan-hellenic council, inter-sorority governing body at Westminster college, will hold its annual tea for freshmen women Friday afternoon in Ferguson hall lounge.

Committees for the tea include: invitations, Theta Upsilon; refreshments, Kappa Delta and Beta Sigma Omicron; table arrangement, Chi Omega, and receiving line, Sigma Kappa, according to Jo Cochran, Alpha Gamma Delta, Pan-hellenic social chairman.

THREE MORE KILLED IN CALCUTTA RIOTS

CALCUTTA, Oct. 31.—(INS)—Three persons were killed and at least seven were wounded today in a violent new outbreak of Moslem-Hindu fighting.

Two of the dead were killed by bullets fired by troops who tried to break up rioting mobs. The third died of stab wounds. Seven stab-bings in all were reported before noon, along with six cases of arson.

PAYMENTS TO VETERANS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 31.—(INS)—State Treasurer Ramsey S. Black today reported payments totaling $2,791,914 were made to 139,836 veterans during the week ended October 25 while benefits amounting to $1,476,336.95 were paid to 81,738 jobless civilians.

The previous week's disbursements were $3,018,955 to former service men and $1,471,459 to unemployed civilians, he added.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day.

If the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning, sometimes hows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions or over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
